

Research methods in international journalism

ingilis

1. Types of knowledge
2. Ways of obtaining the truth
3. Philosophy of science and scientific concepts
4. Importance of research
5. Types of research
6. Scientific and social research
7. Differences between social and scientific research
8. Social studies
9. Types of social research according to the purpose
10. Philosophy of social science and approaches
11. Positivism approach
12. Interpretive (Hermeneutic) approach
13. Critical approach
14. Feminist and Postmodern studies
15. Quantitative and qualitative research methods in social sciences
16. Characteristics of qualitative and quantitative research
17. Quantitative research method
18. Scientific research techniques in quantitative research
19. Quantitative research method; pros and cons
20. Quantitative research techniques
21. Quantitative research techniques - Structured observation and structured interview
22. Quantitative research technique - Questionnaire
23. Quantitative research technique – Experiment
24. Qualitative research method
25. General characteristics of the qualitative research method
26. Qualitative research techniques

27. Qualitative research technique - In-depth (informal) interview
28. Qualitative research technique - Focus Group Interview
29. Qualitative research technique - Unstructured (unsupervised) observation
30. Qualitative research technique - Life story and Case Study
31. Qualitative research technique - Content analysis (Content analysis)
32. Qualitative research technique – Critical discourse analysis
33. Mixed research method
34. IBM SPSS data analysis software
35. Selection of the research topic and determination of its scope
36. Narrowing the research topic and setting the research problem
37. Determination of research scope
38. Defining the research framework
39. Research planning
40. Stages of research
41. Reference review and resource search in research work
42. Stages of quantitative research
43. Phases of qualitative research
44. Scope of research
45. Research summary and sampling
46. Sampling methods in research work
47. Reliability in research according to social science approaches
48. Reliability in positivist research
49. Reliability in interpretive research
50. Reliability in critical research
51. Research style and writing procedure
52. Research ethics
53. Standards of research
54. Research sources
55. Electronic sources of research
56. Rules for handling references

57. Preparation of references list and work with reference sources
58. Rules for publication of research work
59. Work with scientific journals
60. Digital research channels
61. Characteristics of plagiarism
62. Rules for the preparation of slides
63. Stages of preparation of scientific researches
64. Rules for preparation of research design
65. Frame the topic "Representation of the state and media institutions in social media" and prepare a research design
66. Frame the topic "Representation of government institutions in social media" and develop a research design
67. Frame the topic "Representation of media organizations in social media" and develop a research design
68. Frame the topic of "social media addiction" and develop a research design
69. Frame the topic "Turkish-Azerbaijani relations in the media" and prepare a research design
70. Frame the topic "Media strategies of political parties" and develop a research design